

James Cook was born on a farm in England in 1728. He was to become one of the most famous explorers and seamen in history.

