

1 APRIL 1788 The steward of the GOLDEN GROVE, killed a very large snake among some rushes in a swampy place. It was eight feet long and had very sharp teeth.

